

20 Cabernet Sauvignons for Cabernet Day

This September 3rd is Cabernet Day, a day to celebrate Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc. The day always takes place on the Thursday before the American holiday Labor Day every year.

The grapes Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc have long been praised for their prominence in the Bordeaux region. They are two of the most widely planted grapes in Bordeaux, and their dominance in the region dates back to the 18th century. Today, Cabernet Sauvignon is the most popular grape on the planet. On Vivino, over 13% of all wines rated have Cabernet Sauvignon in them, making it far more popular than any other grape (the second most popular grape, Merlot, for example, is only in 8.8% of wines).
