FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Sabail, Brooklyn sign protocol on friendship and cooperation

November 20, 2014 (AzerTAc) – New York City: Sabail District, Baku, and Brooklyn, New York City, have signed a protocol on friendship and cooperation.

The document was signed as a delegation led by head of Sabail District Executive Authority Asif Asgarov met Brooklyn Borough President Eric Adams.

Speaking before the signing ceremony, Mr. Adams said he visited Azerbaijan in 2012 to watch Eurovision song contest. He added he was deeply impressed by what he saw in the Azerbaijani capital.

Mr. Adams said building business ties between Brooklyn and Sabail will stimulate the bilateral cooperation in the fields of culture and tourism.

Mr. Asgarov highlighted Azerbaijan`s development in the years of impence, and the country`s achievements in the past few years.

He also spoke of preparatory work for Baku 2015 European Games, and invited the Brooklyn Borough President to the Azerbaijani capital to watch the event.

Mr. Asgarov also highlighted construction work in Sabail.

Counsellor of the Azerbaijani Embassy in Washington Mammad Talibov hailed Azerbaijani-U.S. partnership as strategic.

He praised the opening of Baku-New York flight, saying it testified to Azerbaijan`s prosperity and positive dynamics of the development of the two countries` relations.

Mr. Talibov said Azerbaijan had rich tolerance traditions, adding representatives of various ethnicities and religions have peacefully co-existed in the country in peace and security for centuries.
